

FREDO VIOLA

The Sad Song

BECAUSE

Remixes of US electro-pop singer/producer

Fredo Viola was born in London but grew up in the US. The original versions on this four-track EP aren't dancefloor tunes, but they're superb, combining film score atmospherics with ethereal vocals and bursts of funky energy. Remixes come from Tunng, Prins Thomas and Roland Appel (the man behind 'Dark Soldier').

Appel's is superb. He utilises parts of Viola's vocals over a deep, bassy house groove that builds incessantly into a super-cool peaktime house track. Thomas's is a typically psychedelic slo-mo affair.

